Let us take on the challenge to settle family broigeses, speak with family who we have isolated and welcome them back into the fold. There is always room for respectful debate and for insightful research if it that is done with love and respect. Beyond our family, let us also take a more inclusive approach to other Jews in our community.

In taking an active role in settling family disputes or "broigeses" we are simply modelling the beautiful manner of our beloved Aharon HaCohen, whom we remember as a warrior for peace and love between family members.

הלל ושמאי קבלו מהם. הלל אומר, הוי מתלמידיי של אהרן, אוהב שלום ורודף שלום, אוהב את הבריות ומקרבן לתורה : משנה אבות א"י"ב

Hillel and Shamai received the oral tradition from them. Hillel used to say: be of the disciples of Aaron, loving peace and pursuing peace, loving mankind, and drawing them close to the Torah

Shabat Shalom, David

ANNOUNCEMENTS

MAZAL TOV

To the Bassin family on Jackie's Bar Mitzvah.

To the Lederman / Gorov family on the birth of Simmi.

May you continue to have Nachat from your families.

CONDOLENCES

The Yavneh Family mourns, with our brothers and sisters in Israel and prays for the safe return of the hostages.

May your family know no more sorrow

To include your announcement in Keshet, please email reception@yavneh.vic.edu.au with relevant names and contact information.

SECOND HAND UNIFORMS

YPO Second Hand Uniform Shop welcomes your donations of pre-loved uniforms in good condition. All proceeds from sales support our Yavneh children via YPO projects.

Contact SecondHandUniform@yavneh.vic.edu.au if you wish to buy or donate pre-loved uniforms.

Join over 350 members in the Yavneh 2nd Hand Uniform & Books Facebook group to buy and sell your pre-loved uniforms, books or extra-curricular gear (eg. ballet, karate, cricket kit). Please restrict the sales and requests to items relevant to education.

Please note: The YPO will no longer be accepting secondhand books but you are welcome to buy, swap and sell them via the Facebook page.

THE GIFT OF GIVING

Yael Lewis, Co-ordinator of Jewish Studies (ELC)

Giving Tzedakah not only provides for someone else's physical needs; it also grants dignity to the person giving. In other words, giving tzedakah benefits the giver as well as the recipient. Rabbi Jonathan Sacks Z"l once wrote, "The paradox of giving is that when we...give to another, it is we ourselves who are lifted".

These words certainly are true for all our incredible children as we enjoyed our ELC Shavuot celebrations last week. Everyone arrived at the centre with baskets, bags and containers filled with a wide variety of fruit and vegetables (Bikurim). Our children proudly carried these Bikurim to the Shule, wearing their flower decorated crowns and looking extra smart in their Shabbat clothes. Everyone excitedly placed their fruit and vegetables at the front of the shule, and we enjoyed a whole ELC tefillah. The atmosphere was incredible as all our children, sang, danced and clapped along with one another.

We are very grateful to have had Rabbi Brull join us and show all our children the inside of the Aron Kodesh and also the inside of a Sefer Torah. The ruach was made even greater with our Tzevet members, Chananya and Tziki, joining us to play the guitar and sing along.

It was incredible being able to donate so many boxes of fruit and vegetables to CCare, who we know will have put this produce to very good use.

A very big thank you to Rabbi Brull, Chananya & Tziki for joining us and making this such a wonderful Shavuot celebration. I would also like to thank all our ELC families for their incredible generosity when sending the Bikurim. It is very special to be able to teach children about the importance of Tzedakah, even from such a young age.

YEAR 1 ARE PUSH AND PULL DETECTIVES!

ROMY BROWNE & MICHELLE HAIN, Primary Teachers

As part of our Unit of Inquiry this term, the Year 1 students have been delving into the exciting world of forces, specifically focusing on understanding pushes and pulls. Through a series of engaging activities, the students have been discovering how these forces work in everyday life.

speed and distance. These activities helped them predict how a ball might move or change shape when different forces were applied. The children then related this to the various sports they enjoy watching and playing, such as soccer and AFL footy, and how they can become more skilled or adept at these sports by applying their knowledge about forces!

One of the highlights has been our sessions in the Year 1 playground where students experimented with different playground equipment. They observed how pushing the boat makes it move further and faster, while pulling it can bring it to a stop. Similarly, they explored slides, noting how the strength and direction of a push could affect how quickly or slowly they descended.

In the classroom, we set up experiments with toy cars and ramps. Students pushed the cars with varying strengths and angles, predicting and then observing how these changes affected the cars' speed, distance travelled and time taken to travel down the ramp. They also explored how pulling the cars in different directions could change their paths. Students enjoyed working collaboratively, using iPads to record their results.

Students participated in various ball games, such as rolling, throwing, and catching. By experimenting with how hard or gently they pushed or pulled the ball, they saw firsthand how the strength and direction of these forces influenced the ball's

It was wonderful to see the students approach their Science learning with open-mindedness, inquisitiveness and flexible thinking!

SECOND CHANCES

GEDALIAH LEVIN, Jewish Studies

How many times have we sent an email, text or voice message, only to immediately regret what we said, or to whom we sent it? How many times have we posted a comment on social media, only to remember seconds later that the entire world can see it? In today's fast paced world of technological communication, it is easy to fall into this trap, and a lack of caution with our words and impulse could sometimes lead to catastrophic consequences. When we realise the grave impact of our words we often long for a second chance to approach the decision with a clearer more level-headed conscience.

I learned this lesson the hard way a couple of years ago when I sent a Whatsapp message to someone I know, inquiring about a particular aspect of their life. It came from a good place, I was genuinely concerned for them and wanted to show that I cared. But as it turned out, my good intentions were misplaced, and my text ended up invading this person's privacy in quite a significant way. When I realised this a few minutes later I was beside myself. I couldn't believe that ruined my credibility by sending that message and truly hurt this person. But I had to turn things right. As difficult as it was, I picked up the phone and called this person and spoke to them directly. I apologised for sending the message without thinking and for invading their privacy. The person thanked me for reaching out, admitted that they did indeed feel hurt by my message, and appreciated both my concern and my remorse. While the incident shook me up, I did feel as though I was granted a second chance, to wipe the slate clean of a error I truly regretted.

But this feeling did not come right away. For days the guilt ate at me and I had a hard time forgiving myself. As this incident took place shortly after Pesach, I was reminded of the story in the Torah of Pesach Sheni as described in Parashat Beha'a lot'cha. A group of upright Israelites had been unable to bring the Korban Pesach after they carried the bones of Yosef, rendering them 't'me'im' or ritually impure. They approached Moshe and uttered the iconic phrase ערגג המל – Why should we lose out? They acted out of conviction; they wanted to be able to perform all the Mitzvot and insisted they should be granted a second chance. Hashem responded favourably to their request and thus Pesach Sheni was born. If someone was ritually impure or distant from the Bet Hamikdash on Erev Pesach, they could bring the Korban Pesach one month later on the 14th of Iyar.

Pesach Sheni teaches the value of the second chance, that nothing is ever lost. Even if one is 'Tamei' or 'far away' from a particular situation or mindset, one can latch on to the opportunity granted to make things better. Admittedly I had always thought this lesson was somewhat cliché. When I experienced my own second chance, I finally began to appreciate this important lesson.

May each of us be blessed with the insight to take the second chances granted to us.

SECONDARY SPORT

AARON FETTER, Head of Sports - Secondary

Another bumper term of Yavneh Sport run and done (almost!). Participation is a great starting point, but the message the PE department stresses to our students, particularly when they are representing more than themselves, is to be actively engaged in both body and mind, and to activate the competitive streak within. The Nachat flowed seeing these essential dispositions come to life in our students during this term's Interschool Sport Program. From the badminton and basketball courts to the footy ovals, to the cross-country trail, the soccer pitches, netball thirds and table tennis tables. Of all the moments of glory achieved, it is these two images of Yavneh students arm in arm that speaks the loudest to me. I see elements of the Yavneh 'Mission' powerfully embodied. Do you see it too? 'Compassionate young people, imbued with humility and integrity, who are committed to Hashem; to the Torah, its values and mitzvot' through their sporting pursuits. Of course, the scoreboard matters, but it's the manner in which you participate, engage and compete that I would rather be judged on. And I dare say we achieved a major victory on that front this term. Well done and thank you to all students and staff for their positive contributions this term.

Changing lanes, the VCE PE class were afforded the opportunity to engage in and observe elite fitness level testing and procedures. During testing, Luke from METS Performance Consulting engaged students in discussion and linked the data collected to a range of key knowledge points in the VCE PE study design including energy systems, fatigue and recovery, acute responses, chronic adaptations, training and performance enhancement. Well done to Ari Fell (pictured) and Jade Miller who were only too keen to be put through their paces for the sake of sport science (and at times their peers' amusement!).

Looking ahead to more exciting events on the Yavneh Sport calendar:

June 25 – Regional Cross Country: Eyal Berry, Zac Ash, Benji Lotzoff, Avishai Salomonvitch

July 17 – Yavneh vs King David: inaugural VCE girls soccer and boys footy

July 19 – VCE PE program @ St Kilda FC

August – Winter Round Robins: basketball, futsal, table tennis, hockey, ultimate frisbee

August 14 – Annual Year 11 vs 12 footy match

August 26 – Track and Field Interschool: select students

B'NAI BRITH YOUTH ART COMPETITION

MICHAEL DASKALOU, Head of Arts

Dear Yavneh community!

I am delighted to inform you that several of our students have won prizes in this year's B'nai B'rith Jewish Youth Art Competition. Their dedication, creativity, and hard work have truly paid off, and we are incredibly proud of their accomplishments.

To celebrate this wonderful achievement, we would like to invite the winning students and their parents and the entire Yavneh community to the official prize-giving ceremony.

This special event will be held at the Glen Eira Gallery on Sunday, June 30th at 2:20 PM.

The ceremony promises to be a memorable occasion, celebrating the artistic talents and hard work of our young artists. It will be an excellent opportunity to recognize their efforts and share in their success with family and friends.

We look forward to seeing you there and celebrating the remarkable achievements of our students together.

Thank you for your continued support and encouragement.

ROBOTICS

at Leibler Yavneh College

The Lego WeDo program is an engaging introduction into the world of robotics and a great way to develop interest in maths, science and engineering. This hands-on program will see students working together to solve a range of real problems all with the support of experienced robotics coaches. Students will develop the confidence to ask questions and find answers at the same time.
